GENERAL EVENT DETAILS

Q: Do teams need to remove all equipment from the competition hall each night?

A: The event venue is secured at night; however, the REC Foundation and VEX Robotics encourage teams not to leave valuables in the pits. The REC Foundation and VEX Robotics assume no liability for belongings left in pits and explicitly note that anything left in the building unattended, is left there at the owner's risk. This especially applies to small, valuable items like computers and cameras. You need to decide yourself if you want to leave your robot in the pits or not. We expect that some teams will carry their robots back and forth to the venue. Since hotels are close to the venue, it will be convenient for teams to transport items back and forth.

Q: When will the Event Layout be released?

A: The Event Layout will be released no later than two weeks prior to VEX Worlds 2017.

Q: What will be present in each team's pit?

A: VRC and VEX IQ teams will be provided with a pit measuring 10' x 10' that will have a 6' x 24" table (30" h), 2 chairs, electricity, a trash can and a team sign. The pit will have an 8-foot tall drape behind it and a 3-foot drape along the side.

Q: Can we bring additional spectators with us to the event?

Q: How are teams assigned to the different Divisions?

A: Teams are randomly assigned to the Divisions. It should be noted that teams from the same organization/school will be split across the Divisions. While teams will be split into different Divisions randomly, we expect that most pit areas will be in sequential order for VRC High School Divisions, VRC Middle Schools Divisions, VEX U, VEX IQ Middle School Division, and VEX IQ Elementary Division.

Q: Our school/club has multiple teams, will they all be in the same Division?

A: No. Teams from the same school/organization/club will be split across the various Divisions.

Q: We have another team that we want to share a pit with. May we move into their pit and share the space?

Q: When should I get my robot inspected?

A: Your robot must be inspected before your first match, and must be inspected before using the practice fields. Inspectors will mark your robot to denote that it has passed inspection, and Referees will look for those inspection marks before allowing you to play. In addition, Referees and Inspectors may require re-inspection of your robot at any time during the event. There is no official re-inspection of robots before elimination matches, but Inspectors may spot check robots at this time.

Teams must have passed inspection no later than 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 20, 2017, for VRC/VEX U.

VEX IQ teams are strongly encouraged to arrive, check-in, and begin Inspection on Sunday, April 23. Check-in and Inspection will close by 10:30 a.m. on Monday, April 24. Teams that are not checked-in and inspected by these deadlines will not be included in the match list for the event.

Q: How many qualification matches will we play?

A: This will be dependent on the final number of teams participating in VEX Worlds. As the schedule is finalized, the REC Foundation is working to ensure each team will get 8-10 rounds of qualifying matches.

Q: Do you still need more volunteers?

A: Yes. Individuals interested in volunteering during VEX Worlds 2017 should complete the online volunteer form at: <http://www.roboticseducation.org/volunteers/vex-worlds-volunteers/>.

Q: Are safety glasses required during VEX Worlds?

A: All volunteers, drivers and coaches must wear eye protection while in the competition field areas or around the practice fields for VRC and VEX U. While we always recommend the use of safety glasses, they are not required for VEX IQ participants. Teams demonstrating robots to Judges or guests must also wear eye protection. Eye protection in the pits will be left up to the discretion of individual team coaches, but we strongly recommend that eye protection be worn by anyone demonstrating or working on a robot, cutting materials, or near a working robot.

When in doubt, get the glasses out and put them on.

Q: Will all the pits be in one space?

A: The team pits will be in multiple halls. The halls are connected and the pits will be organized by Division.

Q: Is there a dress code for VEX Worlds?

A: Students should consult with their team mentor or coach. All attendees must wear closed toe and heel shoes during the event. Otherwise, there are no specific dress code restrictions. Attendees are reminded to dress comfortably and appropriately, and to avoid loose hanging clothes or hair if they are going to work with robots or tools in the team pit area.

Q: Are middle school VRC teams eligible to compete in the high school Division?

A: Middle school VRC teams must compete in the middle school Division during VEX Worlds.

Q: Are high school students who are taking college courses eligible to compete in the VEX U Competition?

A: The robot drivers in the VEX U Competition must be enrolled in a post-secondary school and cannot be enrolled in a secondary educational institution. Anyone may serve as a VEX U coach.

Q: Will the competition officials use anti-static spray on the fields this year? What is the spray that will be used?

A: Yes, it is normal practice to use an anti-static spray at a competition of this size. TechSpray 1726-QT or something similar may/will be used to spray the tiles during VEX Worlds. It is currently stocked and sold in quarts at All-Spec, Allied Electronics and other online retailers. Allied and Mouser do not have a case minimum.

Q: What is the suggested format for the Engineering Notebook?

A: Teams may wish to use the Robotics Engineering Notebook supplied by the REC Foundation as their notebook. Additional notebooks are available for purchase: <http://www.vexrobotics.com/276-3023.html>.

The Engineering Notebook requirement for the Design Award has no specified format. Each notebook should be created through a concerted effort by a team to document their design decisions. Teams should start their notebooks early and update them often to display the team's progress during the competition season for the judging team. Judges will be looking for documentation of the engineering design process and the use of project management, time management, and teamwork.

Q: When and where will Engineering Notebooks be returned to the teams?
